

Main Street Grille

It's All About Family

The Main Street Grille, as it is shown at its Muncy location. The Pashakis family, who own the eatery, operate it together, and enjoy getting to know their visitors personally. "People come in and they know us and we know them," Ted Pashakis said. "We have some regular customers who come in here four or five times a week." He said he's proud to offer a well-rounded menu with a wide selection, and said he offers the only Greek food in the area.

The Pashakis family, shown in top photo left to right: Ted, Yanni and Dana, are all smiles at their 12 S. Main St., Muncy restaurant. Ted said he decided to open the Main Street Grille there after specializing in food and beverage at a Wilkes-Barre hotel and at steakhouses in different states for 10 years. Ted said the homemade extra virgin olive oil used for cooking is derived from his own olive farm in Greece. In the middle photo, Main Street Grille waitress Misty Greene, left, serves coffee to customer Kathy Marcello of Williamsport, who is preparing to enjoy a gyro salad at the downtown Muncy restaurant.
